

Professional Github Portfolio

GitHub Pages :

A GitHub service for publishing a website from content stored in GitHub repository.

- Repository : Your files, images, Markdown
- Publish : GitHub serves the selected website content
- Webpage : Visitors open the published site in a browser.

~~Plus~~ Publishing a Website :

Students can learn the publishing workflow using a simple practice

- ★ Create repository
- ★ Add website content
- ★ Configure Page
- ★ Wait for deployment
- ★ ~~Plus~~ Publish

Personal Portfolio:

Show who you are, what you know and what you have built.

About me

- Name
- Course
- Interests
- Skills

My Projects

- Projects you do
- codes
- Webpage

Contact

- mail ID
- LinkedIn Profile
- Github

Academic and Research Portfolio

Academic Portfolio

- Education
- Course/certification
- Project
- skills
- Achievements

Research Portfolio

- Research interests
- Publications
- Conferences
- Datasets/projects
- Reports

Publish only information and materials you have allowed

Profile README = your Github Introduction

Your ~~can~~ profile can communicate your identity, interests, skills and selected work. Your portfolio will decide who you are.

Badges : Use badges that accurate and meaningful.

Pinned repositories: Pin your strongest or most relevant repository.

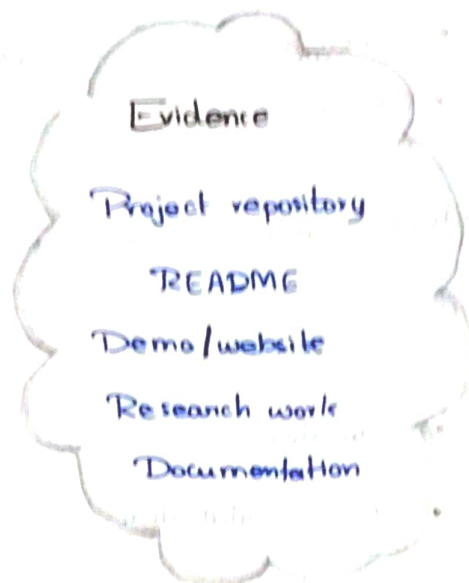

Showcase the best work of yours to get the ~~im~~ first impression

Your work will speak who you are.

Digital Resume :

A digital Resume becomes stronger when every claim can point to evidence.

- Education
- Skills
- Experience
- Certifications
- Achievements
- Contact

Portfolio for Higher Studies and Employment.

The same portfolio can support different goals when you change what you highlight.

Build your Professional Github Portfolio

Your portfolio should answer three questions.

- ★ Who you're
- ★ What can you do
- ★ What you have built.

Build → Document → Publish → Share → Grow